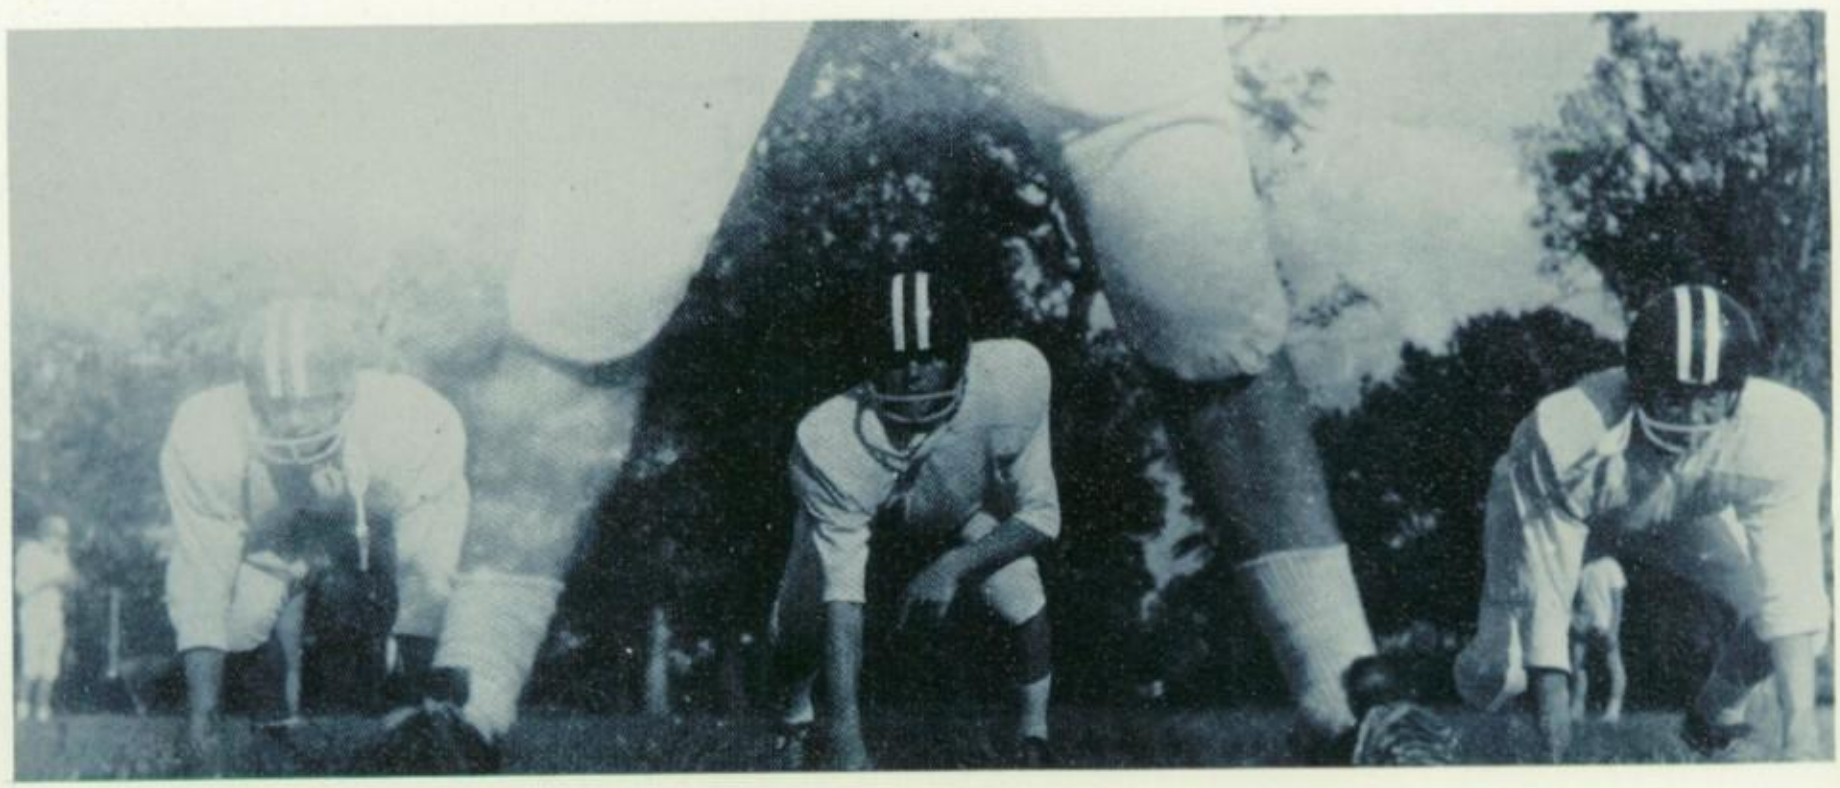
Memphis Harding School's our treasure
That's our Christian joy and pride.
Tis our service, our endeavor
In these halls our hopes abide.
May the providence that built thee
Still continue as our guide.
Memphis Harding may God's blessings
Fall abundantly on thee.
We will ever love and cherish
Thee until eternity.

a look into lion country...



"Victories that are easy are cheap. Those only are worth having which come as the result of hard fighting."
--Unknown

"The boy and girl walking along the college campus represent our greatest natural resource. Someday our iron ore, our coal, our oil will give out and we will have to substitute new synthetic substances for the natural ones. But for our human resource -- the young people of America -- there is no substitute. Our future, which we hope will be great, can only be as great as they are, no more and no less. From the living ore of their minds and characters history will extract not only the goods and machines of the American future, but its laws and its institutions, its philosophy and its poetry, its music and its architecture. "A great city," Walt Whitman tells us, is that which has the greatest men and women."

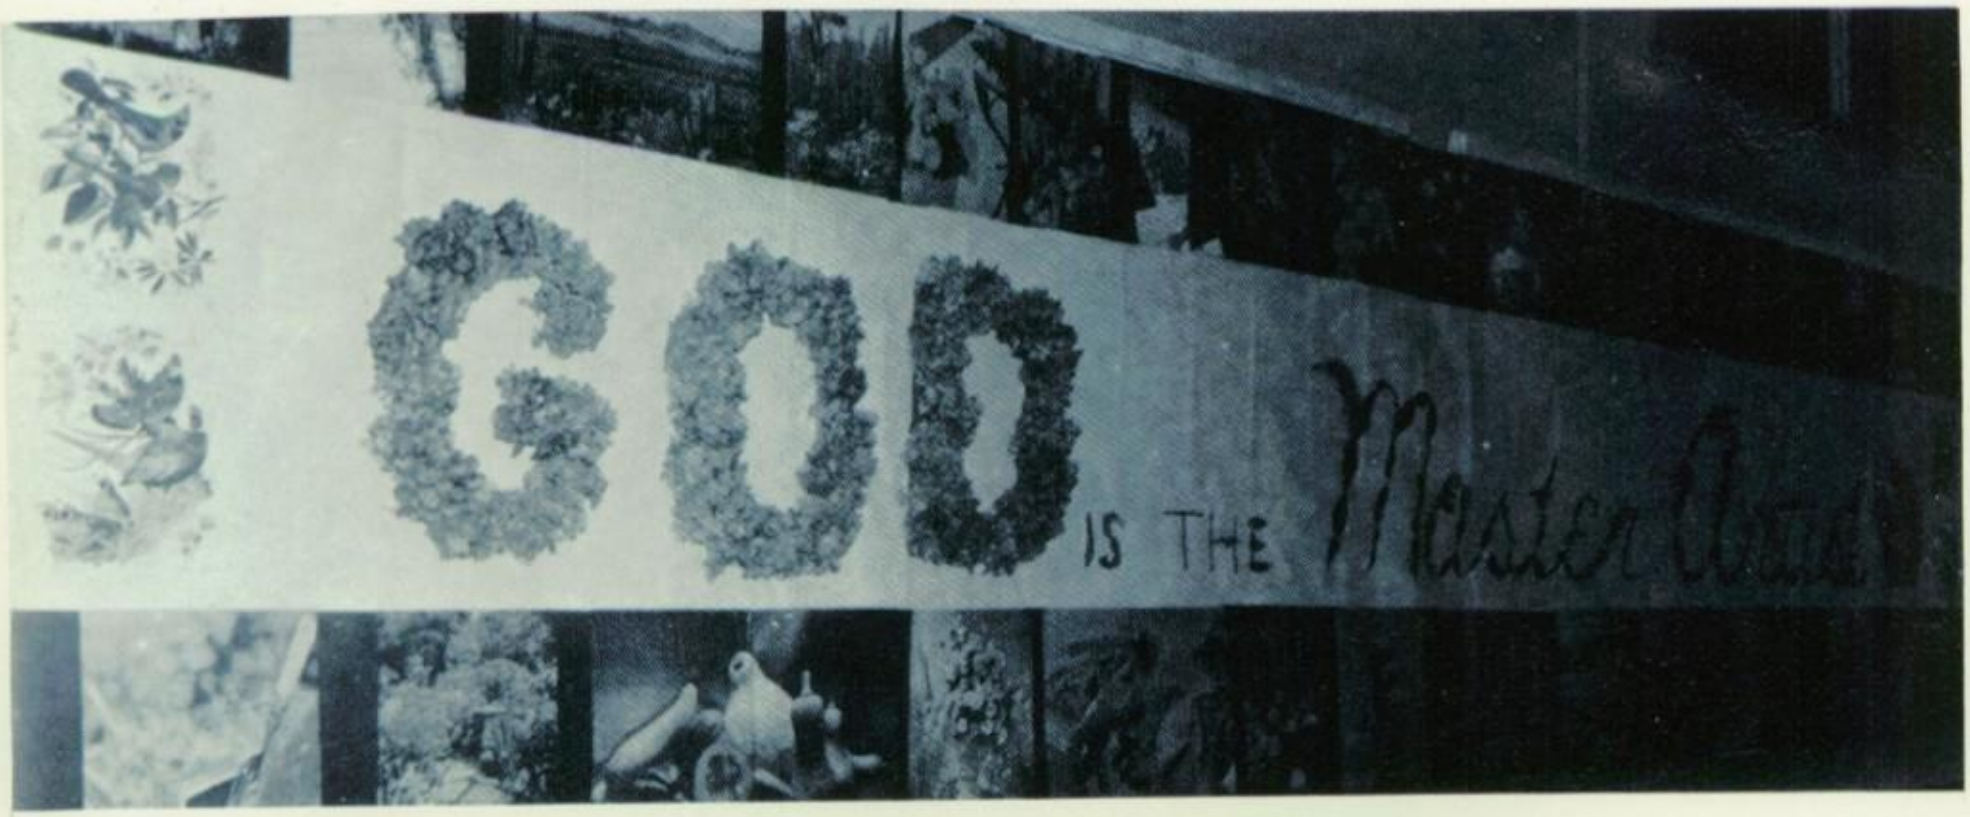
--Clifton Fadiman

"Reason and judgment are the qualities of a leader."

--Tacitus

"We sometimes fear to bring our troubles to God, because they must seem so small to Him who sitteth on the circle of the earth. But if they are large enough to vex and endanger our welfare, they are large enough to touch His heart of love. For love does not measure by a merchant's scale, nor with a surveyor's chain. It hath delicacy which is unknown in any handling of natural substances."

--Torrey



Through the faculty, we discovered the pains of homework, the anxieties of cramming--and the satisfaction of learning and creating.

the strong voice of our student body

Fellow Students,

In May of last year the student body of Harding Academy elected four officers to act as their voice in the government of their school with me as their President. During the course of this year, these officers, two representatives from each high school class with faculty and administration worked together to give the very best of everything to a school and its people who deserve only the best.

It functions as an organization serving not only the school, but the community as well. Now that we hold the office of chaplain in the Memphis Association of Student Councils and have established ourselves as a working body, we are planning to run for higher offices in years to come. Here we work with teen-age Student Council members from many schools in the Teen-age March for Leukemia and the Youth Guidance Commission along with other endeavors.

Many student ideas have been passed by the Council to become school policy, providing its citizens opportunity to exercise adult thinking and judgment in the government of Harding Academy.

dedication to ideals is their aim

Dear Students,

Success is a common goal for all of us. Many however have the erroneous idea that it is something that lies in the future regardless of our present age, grade, or position. Success is found not only in reaching a goal but in making satisfactory progress toward one.

If you have a purpose in life based on the will of God and you are using the abilities he has given you in preparing for that purpose, then success is already yours.

No one can do better than his best, and no one should be pleased with anything less. If you put forth your best effort you should have a feeling of satisfaction regardless of your accomplishments. There is no disgrace for not making the football team, chorus, or honor roll if you gave your best in trying for them. There is no honor in making them all if you did so without using the full extent of your abilities.

Determine now what your purpose in life is. Plan how you will accomplish that purpose, make your activities fit into your plans and give your best to everything you undertake. Remember anything worth doing is worth doing well.

Dr. George Benson has on the wall of his office a slogan which could direct each of us into greater service and greater success. It is: "When you play, play hard. When you work, don't play at all."

May God's richest blessings rest on each of you as you reach toward that which he has given you to do.

Sincerely,

Harold Bowie

dedication

We proudly dedicate the 1965 Shield to one who has been a member of our faculty since the beginning of Memphis Christian School. She has worked tirelessly through the years leaving with each student something of herself. Her serene smile and competent hands meet the daily challenge of teaching and these inspire both her students and fellow teachers to higher goals. Mrs. Osby Riley, we can only express gratitude for having known and loved you.

Best wishes,

Despite his many obligations and responsibilities, Doctor L. M. Graves found the time to guide us through our years at Harding. He was not only very devoted to the Academy, but was an outstanding leader in civic and spiritual affairs. We shall never forget this one who spent his life in service to others.

Through plays, parties, concerts and class projects we broadened our social outlook and enjoyed the fellowship of mutual friends. Sharing these happy times together,

Seniors laugh at the end of the day but cry at the end of the year as graduation and farewells draw closer.

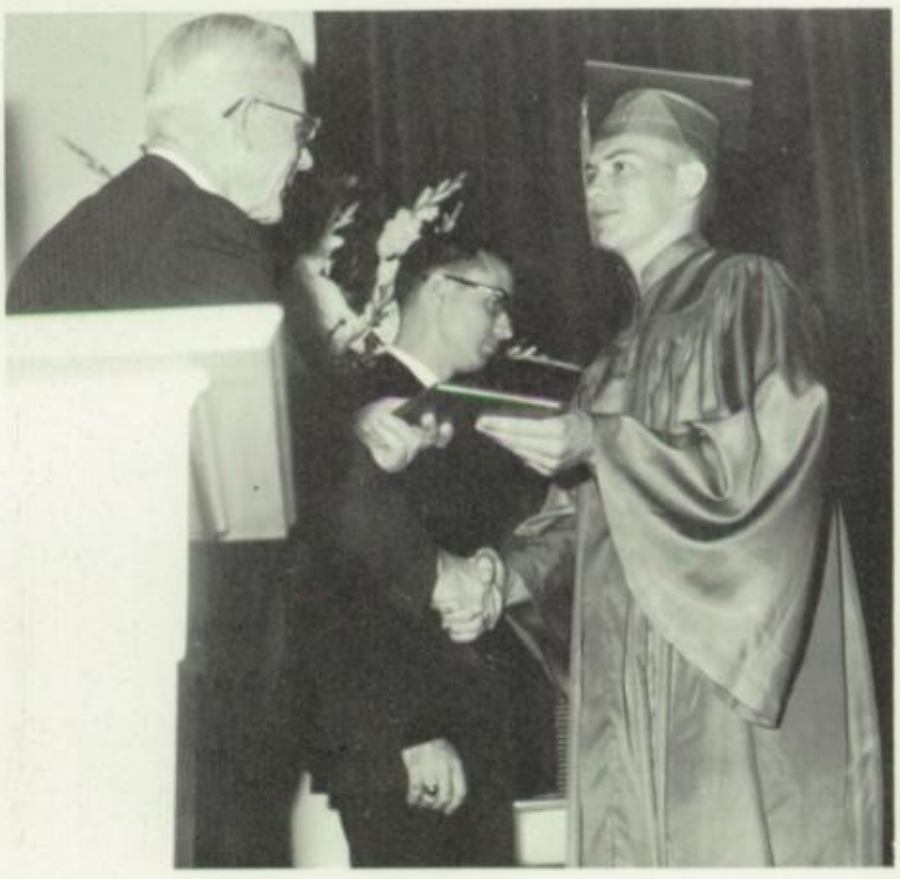
of a past banquet

The 1963-64 school year ended in a big way for the M.H.A. Juniors and Seniors. The Juniors worked hard the complete year in order to surprise our class of "64". The big night of May 15, was one filled with beauty and excitement. The scene was the Summit Club on the Mississippi River; the occasion, the Junior-Senior Banquet. The Travelaires provided the entertainment. The evening was truly a night of the past treasured by all who attended.

'64 seniors leave....



Their high school careers ended. The tense seniors nervously awaited the big moment; they listened to the wise oration of the graduation speaker, Dr. George Benson. Each accepted with pride the diploma he earned. Finally, it was over. We bade farewell to the Senior Class of 1964.

a victorious quiz 'em team

Hard study, research, satisfaction, and finally the pride of winning add up to the Harding Quiz 'em team for 1964. Sixteen schools from the Memphis area competed in the Commercial Appeal's contest with Harding on top. The team, Jimmy Allen, Susan Benson, Nancy Wooten, Paula Bullock, Ronnie Rubio, Pat Lyon, and their sponsors, Judy Humphreys and Bob Alley, were awarded a gold plaque and a week's trip to Dolphin Island, Alabama for their achievement, compliments of The Commercial Appeal. Besides bringing honor to our school, they expanded their own knowledge of current events. Congratulations to the Quiz 'em team!

A truly grand evening at M.H.A. is the one where our football court is announced and our queen crowned. As the girls are announced, they are brought in to meet their escorts in new convertibles, which add to the splendor of the evening. Though the evening was cold, the warmth generated by our happy court was felt by all. Our royal beauties from left to right are: Miss Susan Benson, Junior; Miss Linda Liles, Senior; Miss Linda Castelli, Senior; Miss Gloria Lloyd, Senior; Miss Betty Bird, Junior; Miss Jinanne Green, Senior; and Miss Cilla Gooch, Senior.

The 64-65 Lion team chose our Homecoming royalty. This vote was the basis for the first alternate, second alternate and our queen. Our honored three from left are: Miss Linda Castelli, 1st alternate; Miss Gloria Lloyd, queen; and Miss Betty Bird, 2nd alternate. The beauties are a symbol of royalty, honor at Harding.

Miss Lloyd, as '64 queen, received a dozen long stemmed roses, and a gold football as well as her honored title.

1964 mock politicking prepares ....

Enthusiasm and the unusual were rolled into a slightly mad debate preceeding the Presidential Election. The two very different political points of view were presented in a totally impartial manner by Senator Alley Oop (alias Bob Alley, respected History teacher), and Buffalo Bill (alias Bill Srygley, well-known speech teacher) versus Clarence Dailey and Mike Tomlinson. Did I say impartial?

Senator Alley Oop greets his lovely "Texan" songbird, an avid Lyndon fan, while moderator Terry Beaty and Margerite Piazza (alias Pam Brickell), the famed Memphian with the operatic voice, applaud.

Another school year came to a close and with its conclusion came the usual anxiety felt by each parting Senior. The Commencement exercises were held on June 3, 1965. The salutatory address was presented by Pat Lyon, followed by the Valedictory Address by Lynette Gurganus. The scene of this cherished occasion was the Union Avenue Church of Christ.

The F. H. A. Sponsors, Mrs. Carolyn Batey, Jr. and Miss Margaret Oliver, report that this active organization has had a very prosperous year. When school began, new members were initiated. The Christmas Bazaar proved to be very successful. The F. H. A. girls made the articles and then set the prices. They have shown their steel in many ways this year.

A New Year's Eve party at the Graduate School provided entertainment and served as the first social function of the year. About thirty-six people attended the party and enjoyed a fun-filled night. In the spring, two girls were selected to represent Harding at the State F. H. A. Convention in Nashville. Here they helped select state officers of the organization. The year was climaxed by a luncheon. Whatever the job is, you can be sure these girls will get it done.

To this end the Key Club has money raising projects throughout the year to pay for service projects. To raise the money the Key Club this year conducted a car wash and ran the concession stand at athletic events. The money will pay for the Jr. High Athletic Banquet and several other projects at school. The club has as a duty the care of song books for chapel and cleaning of the hall and gym after basketball games.

The Mission Emphasis Club is designed to add a spiritual highlight to our busy academic schedule. This club should definitely find a place in the hearts of every student at the Academy. The club is a new organization and a hard working group of dedicated individuals.

The club hears from missionaries in different parts of the world at intervals. The members of the club, through these letters, fix in their minds the problems, as well as the rewards of a true missionary.

At the Academy, we try to stress all the needs of a Harding student so that he will be a well-rounded person. The Mission Emphasis Club is one such club designed to fulfill the spiritual needs.

The Dramatics Club was organized this year to give more interested students an opportunity to participate in various phases of acting and backstage work. During the year several one act plays and readings were presented by the Dramatics Club, which was responible for the production of all plays. Emphasis was put on short plays and poetry interpretation throughout the year, rather than just one major production in the spring. Recently two such plays were presented in assembly. "Meet Mr. Murchison", under the direction of Terry Beaty, and "Sorry, Wrong Number", starring Betty Bird were seen by the students just before the Christmas Holidays. They were given again for the parents. The club is under the direction of Mrs. Favara, Mrs. Bates, and Mr. Srygley.

The Teen Tones, directed by Mr. Bob Alley is composed of thirty-five students from grades nine through twelve. Although this is only the second year for the Teen Tones, the members of this group have proven their musical ability through singing popular and classical songs. They began the year with songs such as "Oklahoma" and "June is Bustin' Out All Over" and ended with numbers from the recent musical "West Side Story." Spiritual songs were added to their program as they made a spring trip performing in states throughout the South. This hard working chorus can truly say they have lived up to their motto "Practice makes perfect" as they look back on their many hours spent in rehersals. But they feel these were not wasted hours for their purpose was to prepare an outstanding program in order to represent Harding well.

The A Cappella Chorus was directed this year by Mr. Wayne Davis, a graduate of Oklahoma Christian College. Consisting of thirty-four members, the chorus spent several months in rehearsal before beginning their programs. Their repertoire consisted of hymns and sacred songs.

In assembly the A Cappella joined the Teen Tones in presenting a program of carols and hymns.

In February the group began a series of weekly programs for the various congregations in the area.

In April the group took a seven-day chorus trip through Tennessee and Kentucky, visiting such places as the Mammoth Caves and Lincoln's home. They returned to Memphis through Nashville after enjoying a hectic but rewarding week.

The Debate Club meets every Wednesday to prepare cases and refutations and to work on various individual events.

Students engaging in debate are trained to think on their feet, enabling them to understand problems on a national and international scale.

The Lionettes is an organization formed to promote school spirit, good sportsmanship, and good will toward other teams. The members attend all home games and several away games. During its first year of existence, the Language Club proved itself a valuable asset to Harding Academy. The club was composed of members of the French and Spanish classes. They met monthly to discuss various foreign cultures. The club enjoyed hearing several guest speakers who showed slides and movies and told of their experiences in visiting various countries. Some of the main activities of this club were visits to several foreign restaurants to sample the different cuisine. Members of the club also presented reports on phases of foreign life.

The Lion, a monthly publication, gives a review of the previous month's activities and contains features such as sports, fashions, news, and cartoons.

In the Fall the staff attended a Journalism Clinic sponsored by the Commercial Appeal. Here they gained new ideas and learned the latest thing in newspaper editing.

The main purposes of the LION are to publish news of interest to the student body, and to furnish experience to the students who are interested in the field of Journalism.

Dummy Sheet . . . . triplicate . . . . cut line . . . . gutter . . . . double page spread . . . . natural signature . . . these terms confronted and confused new annual staff members in September but by final deadline day these words had become familiar to all. Veteran staff members set to work, well aware of frenzied moments ahead when photos or copy could not be found, when ads would be refused, when the camera would not flash, or when deadline day loomed ahead with only a few pages ready. This is only a part of the story. There were hours of research, phone calls, planning and replanning, drawing and redrawing. The reader is now holding in his hands a little piece of the work of each staff member. Since hundreds of things happen on our campus every day, we have tried to capture as much of this busy activity as humanly possible. Proudly we present to you the 1965 Shield.

Our sophomores are one of the hardest-working and most fun-loving groups here at Harding. They made a good showing in football with three of their boys playing first string during the season. Lonnie Whitaker, guard, was player of the week several times. Mickey Caughron and David Sain served as the team's managers. In intramurals they began the year by soundly defeating the freshmen in rag-tag football; a large number went out for basketball as well.

Among the sophomore girls who received recognition are Nancy Wooten, Key Club Sweetheart of the sophomore members, and Marcia Black, senior high cheerleader.

The sophomores have many talents; their class included honor students and members of the A Cappella Chorus and Teen-Tones. Mickey Caughron and Duane Priest sang in the men's quartet of the A Cappella.

The Freshmen were eager to start high school off right this year, so a picnic at Audubon Park found an early spot on their agenda. They were well represented on the high school gridiron by Rusty Crider, Billy Hubbard, and Richard Baggett, who sustained injury during the season. We saw plenty of action from them on the basketball court as well. They made a good beginning as freshmen this year at Harding. We have every reason to believe that they will continue to be leaders throughout the remainder of their high school careers.

The eighth grade concentrated its efforts toward the payment of the bleachers we enjoy on the south side of our gymnasium. They really did their part in football and basketball as well. We saw plenty of action from this class. Three of the Junior High Cheerleaders were eighth grade girls- Becky Dailey, Cindy Scott and Martha Jones. the seventh grade

This year was the scene for many things for the seventh graders, and they made a strong beginning in their junior high lives. We saw them in full force both on the football field and the basketball court, where they made a fine showing. Five of the junior high cheerleaders were from this group. They participated in junior high chorus as well. Mr. Irresistible was their Ricky Betts and the top candy salesman of the school was Drury Nelson, who sold 350 bags of candy. Among the big events of their year was a skating party enjoyed by all. Their sponsors were Jerry Mote and Bill Srygley. With such an active group as this, we feel sure that our school will be well-represented for several years to come.

Seventh-graders enjoy the new experience of junior-high life.

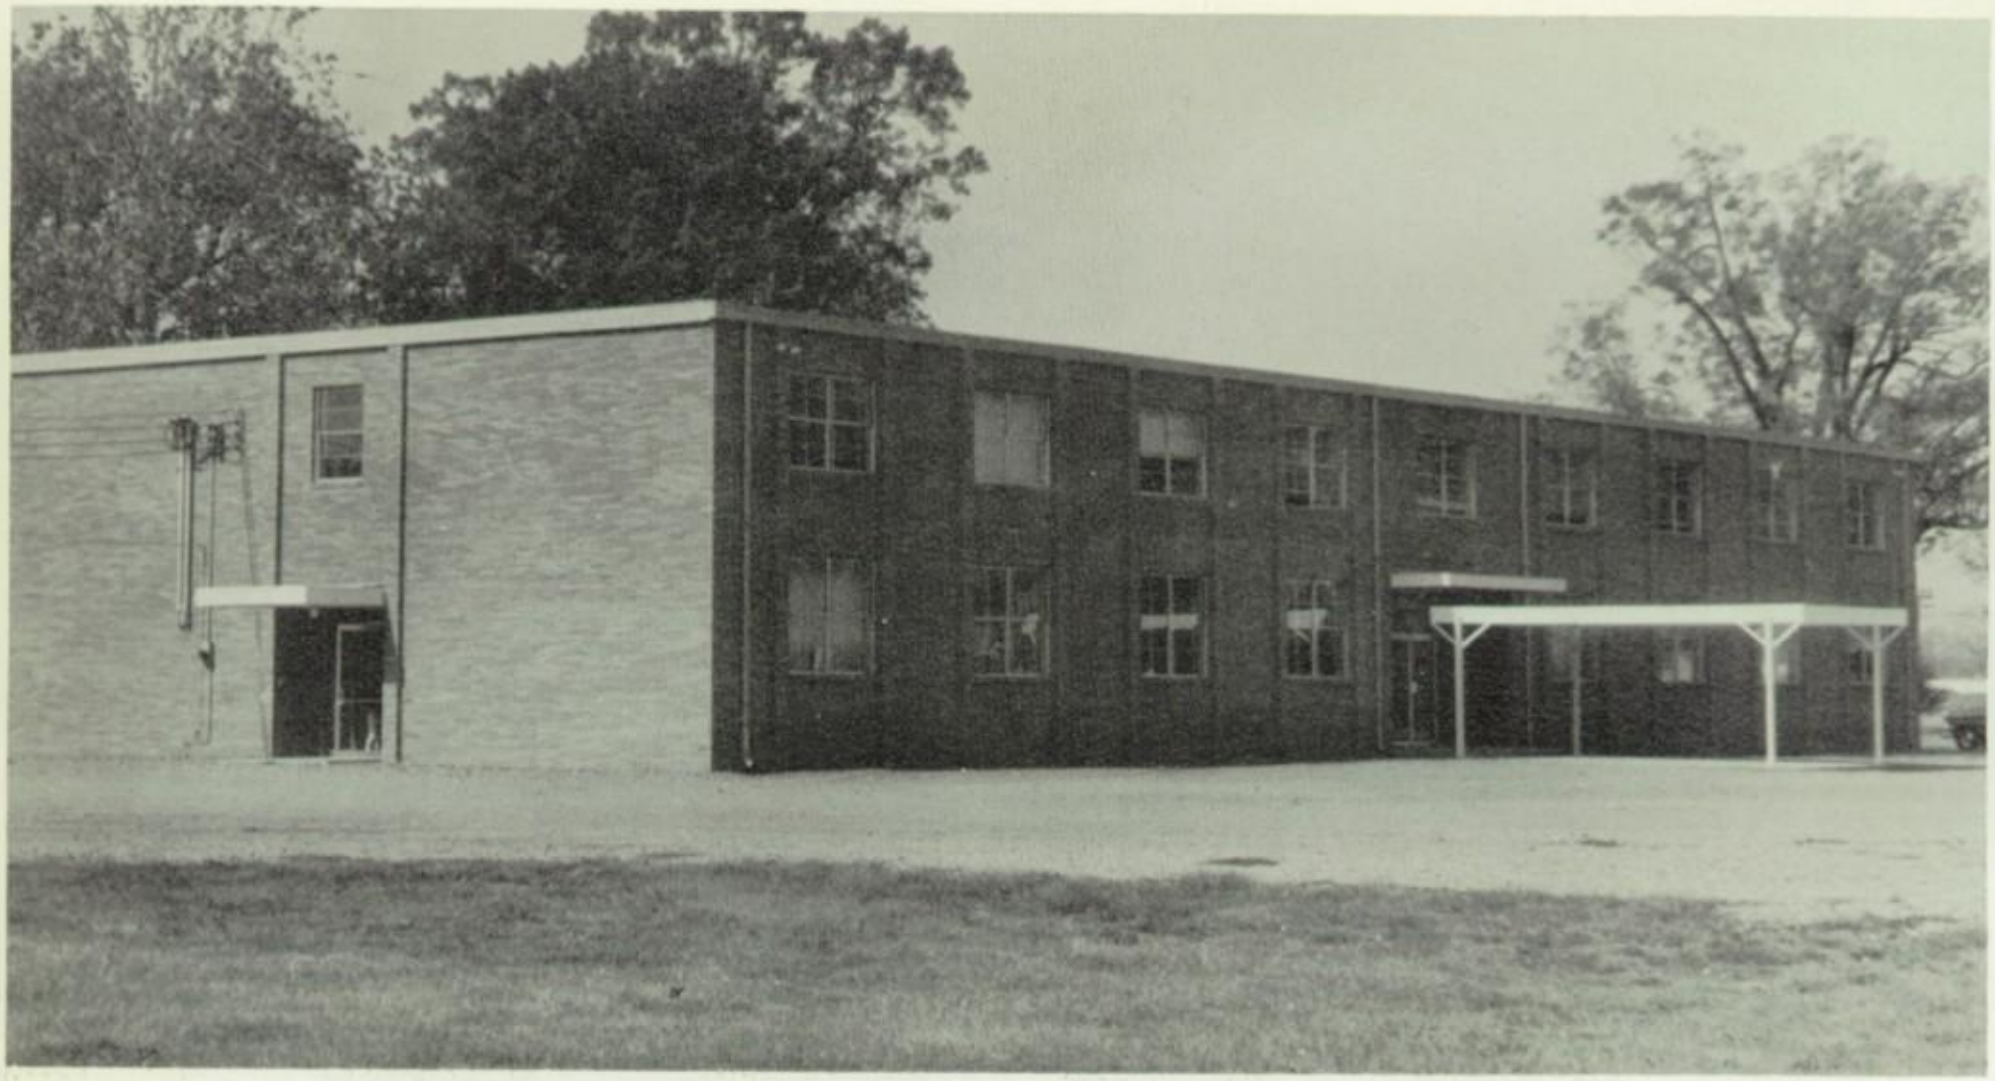
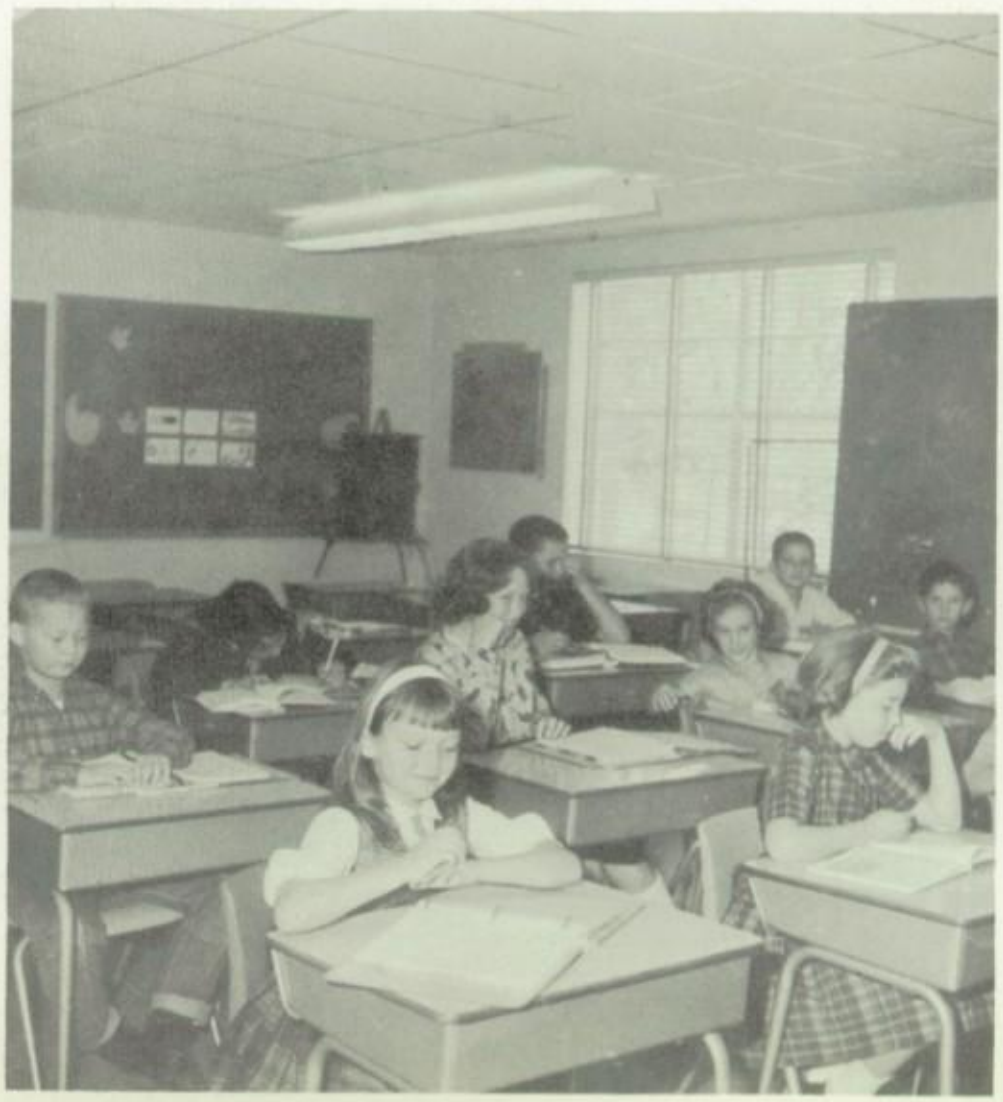
the academy in whitehaven



September means school, but not just any school. To sixty young students in Whitehaven, it meant a new school, Memphis Harding Academy, meeting at the Holmes Road Church of Christ Educational Building. The opening of this school was the realization of a dream of the board of trustees and other men and women who have supported Christian education in Memphis. The school goes from kindergarten to the fifth grade and consists of about sixty students and teachers. Although the school is young and comparatively small, under the leadership of Mr. Jack Campbell, the principal, and a very active Mothers' Club, we can expect rapid growth in the next few years.



New students plus new school equals Whitehaven Academy.

hold fast what is good 1 Thes. 5.21

You at Harding Academy of Memphis have two priceless possessions that are denied to most high school students--a sound heritage of Christianity and Americanism. We suggest that you hold fast to these pearls of great value by continuing your education at Harding College where these things are cherished and preserved in the hearts of students.

But that is not all! At Harding College you get first class academic training under full accreditation of North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. We suggest that you investigate the offerings and advantages of Harding College. We know that teachers, friends and brethren have told you many wonderful things about Harding, but we think you should come and see for yourself.

You can easily make it to the campus in two hours. How about it?
